Career Focus

My primary experience is in a factory/mill setting as a maintenance technician. I have also had many roles in the restaurant and customer service business. I have recently completed a full-stack software development course with Codecademy. Receiving certificates in many web development areas. I am looking to further my career in the development world.

I have a very good work ethic, taking my work seriously, and putting in 100% of my attention and best efforts. I possess solid time management and interpersonal skills that would make me a great asset to any team or business.
